

Lumen Light Therapy Pads

User Testimonials

“I just returned from my orthopedic visit for my leg that was broken in three places. I have been walking on it now for almost two weeks. Small steps. But today, the 8th week after breaking it, he released me. The x-ray showed great healing. Told me I have no restrictions. I can go back to horseback riding, kickboxing, swimming, and aerobics. No physical therapy is necessary as my range of motion in my left leg (the one that was broken) is almost as good as my right leg. I really think the Lumen Light sped the healing process, big time. The doctor said he was truly amazed at my recovery. At my age, 63, he didn't foresee such a quick and total recovery. Wanted you to know that I am really glad that I purchased the Lumen Light. Also, my friend, B. B., saw how it worked and also purchased one.”--S.K. McNair

“I wanted to let you know how helpful your Lumen Photon machine has been. I've been suffering from a chronic sinus infection for the past three years (since the spring of 2004). As a consequence, I had to constantly be on antibiotics. Otherwise, as soon as I'd stop taking them, this chronic condition would quickly grow into a debilitating acute infection, frequently accompanied by bronchitis. I started using your Photon Machine in December of 2006 (5 months ago). I have been applying it to my sinuses twice a day for 15-20 minutes. During that time my chronic symptoms (congestion, mucus, etc) noticeably improved.

A few weeks ago, I decided to get off antibiotics to see what would happen. Miraculously, once I got off the antibiotics this time, not only did the sinus infection not come back (for the first time, ever) but I have been feeling better and better, and my energy level is getting close to what it was before the spring of 2004. In summary, your Photon Machine has been invaluable in helping me get rid of my chronic sinus infection. I feel very grateful for being able to get in touch with you and use your machine - I now have my life back!”--Alex A.

“I first learned about the Lumen Photon Therapy from one of my doctors, Sherry Rogers, MD. I have used it for various complaints such as arthritis in my neck and shoulder. Sometime in late November 2006, I apparently twisted my left knee without knowing I had done it. Suddenly, it began to bother me in a number of ways. First, I was unable to lower myself to a sitting position without dropping the last several inches to the chair. Likewise, it was necessary to pull myself up with my arms from a sitting position. My local primary physician sent me to Sports Medicine for physical therapy. They said the problem was consistent with the meniscus, possibly torn. However, I did not have an MRI.

After two weeks of several appointments each week I felt that the therapy exercises were making it worse. I discontinued the therapy and decided to treat the injury with only the Lumen. It has now been 8 weeks since only using the Lumen. It has gradually improved to the point where I am able to walk 1 mile a day on my treadmill without pain and sitting and standing causes no pain. I wouldn't know what to do without it.”--G. M. West

“My dog Gwen was diagnosed with bone cancer May 16, 2006 and the veterinarian/surgeon reconfirmed the diagnosis on June 13, 2006. He said she would not live past September based on the speed of the cancer growth. On June 1 I started treating her with your Lumen system morning and evening, putting the pad on the cancer site, the left rear ankle, for 15 minutes, and her spine just above her tail for 15 minutes. The ankle site continued to grow and became dysfunctional so she used that leg sparingly. In August I switched the pad from her ankle to her paw after consultation with you. She seemed to improve and used the leg more. On September 9, 2006 she saw the same veterinarian and he said she put on 2 pounds and dogs with cancer lose weight, not gain weight. She looked good to him rather than a dog who was supposed to die. He felt the cancer was gone. I am pleased to say she is still alive, doing normal dog things including chasing squirrels and rabbits. My wife used the Lumen pad on her arthritic knee and neck. She used to have to take Celebrex regularly. She is now much improved and takes an aspirin occasionally. I suffered with allergies most of my life plus sinus postnasal drip. I used the Lumen pad on my spine for my allergies. Most of them have gone, allowing me to eat items I couldn't eat before. Also, I use the pad on my sinuses and have received much improvement in that area too. Your Lumen pad is the best investment I ever made.”--H. M. Wheeler

Practitioner Testimonials

“I got involved with light therapy because of my wife's back injury due to a fall down a flight of stairs. As a result of that fall she now has SI joint dysfunction and degenerative arthritis in the lower spine. With this came much pain and she refused to live the rest of her life on toxic anti-inflammatory and pain medication, which the orthopedic doctor prescribed. A neurologist prescribed a series of physical therapy and prolo therapy. My wife also sought the help of a chiropractor and massage therapist. After two years with the aforementioned treatments not helping, I became interested in research in the benefits of light therapy.

After research and trying several devices, I purchased a Lumen Light, which has helped my wife the most. I first tried a $4000 Low Level Laser Light but found the Lumen Light Pad to be more effective. The Lumen Light Pad has twice (6.3 joules) the power as the $4000 Low Level Laser Light (3.1 joules). Current research shows that once low-level laser light passes through the skin, it no longer acts like a laser light (collimated beam) but behaves more like infra red light (spreads out). At the same time, more and more research is showing many healing benefits of infrared light therapy. Consequently, there is no advantage to using an expensive low-level laser over infrared light. What I found to be most important is the joule output and the strength of the individual infrared light diodes. Many products I analyzed use diodes of only 20 mw each. The Lumen diodes are 200mw each. After my research into the infra red devices on the market, I determined the Lumen Lights to be the most powerful infrared devices available today. In addition, they have 8 frequency settings allowing treatment for anything from pain to infection to chronic degenerative conditions.

In my practice I use the Lumen Light pads to treat pain, reduce acute infection and inflammation from poison ivy, insect bites, cuts, burns, knee pain, shoulder pain, back pain, neck pain, chronic and acute conditions. I have used it on surgery sites of patients to help speed the healing process. I also recommend it to my patients that have cavitations as a first line, noninvasive, non-surgical treatment.”--Anthony J. Castiglia, MD

“Thank you very much for your instrument. My personal testimony: On the second day of my seminar, I tested Lumen Photon therapy on my wrist. My left wrist has been under constant pain for at least two years with carpal tunnel syndrome. After 5 minutes of therapy, Lumen wiped out my pain. I have never had a single pain on my wrist again since returning home to my office!”

“After a boating accident in the fall of 2003, I suffered left hip and left heel pain. Chiropractic treatments only gave me temporary relief. A friend recommended the Lumen Photon and after using it the second time, I noticed some relief so I continued to use it. After three days I had complete relief. I took it to my chiropractor and he muscle tested me with it on, and said he was amazed at how the body responded positively to it.”
